ESG Operations, Inc. was recently recognized as one of the Top 200 Environmental Firms in the country by Engineering News-Record (ENR). ESG is ranked #129 on the list of 2015 Top Environmental Firms in the United States. Up from #141 just one year ago, ESG has been recognized as a “Top Firm” on ENR’s prestigious list since 2011.

ENR is a renowned and respected trade publication for the architecture, engineering and construction industry worldwide. The Top 200 Environmental Firms list, published annually by ENR, ranks the 200 largest publicly and privately held consulting firms based on the previous year’s percentage of gross revenue for environmental services.

“ESG is honored to again be named to ENR’s 2015 list of Top 200 Environmental Firms in the nation. This recognition is a testament to ESG associates who strive each day to make ESG a premier utility service provider. This is another significant milestone for our company. We are excited about the future as we remain committed to providing our clients with innovative, cost efficient and sustainable solutions for today’s complex environmental and infrastructure challenges,” commented ESG principals Clay Sykes, P.E. and Dan Groselle, P.E.
